Volunteer Opportunity

Do you love the outdoors? Do you want to help your community and the environment? If your answer is yes, then please consider volunteering at the Elfin Forest Interpretive Center Honoring Susan J. Varty.

EFRR is in need of docents to help staff the interpretive center that is located in the main parking lot of the Reserve. The center serves as a focal point of learning and helps educate the public about EFRR, the Escondido Creek Conservancy, and our local natural resources.

Examples of what you could be doing at an EFRR volunteer may include:

- Interacting with park rangers and the public.
- Learning how to protect our local natural resources.
- Helping to educate adults and school children about how they can protect and preserve their local natural areas.
- Help inform visitors of EFRR events, trail amenities, local flora and fauna and park rules and regulations.
- Assisting park rangers and Conservancy staff in developing and administering educational programs at the interpretive center.

Be involved with EFRR ranger trainings on park operations, resource management, education and public safety.

We need your help to achieve our goal of keeping the interpretive center open seven days a week, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., for the enjoyment of all of EFRR visitors. Thank you.
